A Wonderful Feat of Necromancy.

The following description of a trick performed by Siamese jugglers, is inter-esting in the extreme. We cull it from the special correspondence of the New York World :

A perfectly formed and most lovely nautch girl sprung out on the stage and was hailed with universal exclamations of delight, every body calling out her name, Luan-Prabana as if it were a word of good omen. Her only dress was a short petticoat of variegated leather work. A wreath of rosebuds crowned her soft, short, black hair, and she wore a pearl necklace, as well as gold armlets and anklets. With a sweet smile she danced exquisitely for some minutes to the accompainment of a single pipe, then knelt and laid her head upon old Norodom's knee. The boy fanned her with a fan made of sweet fern leaves. Minhman fetched a lotos-shaped golden goblet, and Tepada poured into it from quaint looking flask a fluid of a greenish hue. The old yogi-like Norodom took the goblet and blew his breath upon the contents until they brake into a pale

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and. beneficial to children, and yet so searching 's to effectually purge out the great cor-uptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipe-las, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ul-cerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other com-plaints, to which it would not seem especiplants, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are panifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of heal... and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless lan-guor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of Meteorology.

March has kept its ancient reputation good in giving us variable, stormy and windy weather. The change was made a storm of unusual duration and severity, and deserves a special notice.

On the 6th the heavens were overe wind southeast, and barometer at 30 nches, but commenced to fall. A light snowfell during the day (7th), the air had softened with rain, wind still southerly; 8th, the wind shifted into the west, with snow squalls all day; barometer down to 29.05 inches; the three fellowing days the wind blew strong out of the west and northwest, with thick but ight snow. On the 14th the barometer began to move upward towards night. The 15th the storm appeared to be over, as the sun showed himself at setting, not having been visible for a period of 10

About 14 inches of snow fell, with high winds, blocking up the roads so that they were impassable, but followed at ence by a thaw, giving us plenty of slush and mud. This was the first and only drifting snow storm we have had this winler, and in some places it was piled 10 feet

The average temperature at 7 a. m. was 23.8°, at 2 p. m, 32.5°, and at 9 p. m., 26.9°. Mean 27.5°. Lowest, 12th. 2°. Highest, 57°. Amount of rain and time, how full of hope and of anticipa melted snow was 2.4 inches. Snow 15 inches. Rain fell on seven different merchant-ves to all! Truly the farmer days; snow fell on 14 days.

The Clerc Memorial.

A question has been propounded to us lately to the following effect: In accordance with the constitution of the Union, has its Executive Committee a right to reduce the plan of the memorial from fifteen feet in height to about eleven feet "in order to bring the bust into a position where it may be looked at more closely and with greater ease" without submitting the altered plan to the Board of Managers for approval? This is a question at issue between some of the members of said Board. Our opinion having been asked in this matter we will say that, had we entertained any objection to the action of the Committee when we published their Report, we would have protested against it at that time. While we are free to say that, although the Committee had virtually no authority for taking such steps in the matter without a majority of the Board concurring, we nevertheless feel willing to let this case pass as an unavoidable exception to the general rule. Undoubtedly the committee had some good motive in view that impelled them to such action. We toward the completion of the memorial without the unnecessary delay which would be caused by much time spent in corresponding with all the different members of the Board and in collecting together their votes, to say nothing of the expense that would thereby be incurred.

We do not think that the committee intended to exercise any unnecessary powers in disregard of the Board. Nor do we suppose that they would have transcended the authority osited in them in a single instance, simply have the effect of retarding the good work which it is doing, while we are Finally, if all the Associations are de sirous of seeing the memorial completed' as early as possible, and in such a style factory results to all who are interested our thanks: in its erection, we would suggest, as our opinion, that the remainder of the construction be confided to the entire management of the Executive Committee, and that they be encouraged to push it forward to completion at the earliest day. The memorial has so far advanced that it seems there will not be much further advice or consultation to be sought with the Board. We have approved of the propositions set forth in the report of the Executive Committee, that they (Executive Committee) be requested to call July next, and also to appoint an orator and make other necessary arrangements we would earnestly invite the concurrence of all the managers and others interested, in order to assist in the speedy. and final completion of the memorial with which we are to honor the memory of the venerable Laurent Clerc, and perpetuate the memory of his good deeds to future posterity.

Good Friday was observed at the New York Institution. The tendency towards the observation of this day is in the ascendant, and business men say that for all general purposes it is already a holi-day and should be made a legal one.

We recently met a gentleman who, although not a professional, conversed intelligently upon matters pertaining to the deaf and dumb and the blind. He had a stock of general information respecting these two classes, which we do not often find possessed by one even in our own ranks. But what surprised us wa that he expressed his decided opinion that the blind as a class were happier than the deaf and dumb. Here is a chance for some of our essayists to prepare an elaborate reply, and we shall be happy to publish any good ones that may be sent whole the report shows a highly prosper-

A Sunday-school for the deaf has been organized in California. Its founder and superintendent is Mr. Theo. d'Estrella, the young deaf-mute of whom we have before spoken. There is a good deal of the remarkable about this person, and he will make his mark some day. A young pupil of the New York Institution has had an attack of rheumatism. The disease confined itself to his feet, head and arms, so that at one time the poor boy was unable to move either -utterly unable to communicate with those around him, or to make his wants known. It was a sad case. The attending physiciens did all they could for him, and at last accounts he was considerably relieved and on the mend.

Two deaf-mutes were recently married in Philadelphia, and of course the language of signs formed an important part of the ceremony. The papers, far and near, have got hold of the item, and describe the young couple as unspeak ably happy.

Miss Annie Cornily, a teacher of the Blind in the California Institution, has resigned her position, and intends going east to join her family. She leaves with the good wishes of her associates.
